

Humor

I have done my best to provide G-rated humor. Humor is risky to share because what one person experiences as funny, another does not. When possible I give where I found the humor. I hope you all enjoy a chuckle or two. Check back often, as I will add more . . .

Focus: Aging

1. A pious man, who had reached the age of 105, suddenly stopped going to church. Alarmed by the old fellow's absence after so many years of faithful attendance, the pastor went to see him. She found him in excellent health, so the pastor asked, "Why after all these years don't we see you at services anymore?" The old man lowered his voice. "I'll tell you, Reverend," he whispered. "When I got to be 90, I expected God to take me any day. But then I got to be 95, then 100, then 105. So, I figured that God is very busy and must've forgotten about me, and I don't want to remind Him!" (Source: Eculaugh)

Focus: Breaking Bread

1. Someone once responded to receiving the bread with: "Thank you darling for the lovely sandwich!" (Source: Eculaugh)
2. I was giving communion to a 92 year old home bound person. I had just given him the bread when he said, "This could use some peanut butter." (Source: D. Shuttters)

Focus: Church Bulletins

3. For those of you who have children and don't know it, we have a nursery downstairs. (Source: GTEC Newsletter 2009, Vol. 1)
4. This being Easter Sunday, we will ask Mrs. Lewis to come forward and lay an egg on the altar. (Source: GTEC Newsletter 2009, Vol. 1)
5. A bean supper will be held on Tuesday evening in the church hall. Music will follow. (Source: GTEC Newsletter 2009, Vol. 1)
6. The audience is asked to remain seated until the end of the recession. (Source: GTEC Newsletter 2009, Vol. 1)

Focus: Preaching

1. After a church service on Sunday Morning, a young boy suddenly announced to his mother, "Mom, I've decided to become a minister when I grow up." His mom answered, "That's okay with us, but what made you decide that?" "Well," said the little boy, "I have to go to church on Sunday anyway, and I figure it will be more fun to stand up and yell than to sit down and listen." (Source: Eculaugh)
